Part One

Introduction

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 promotes openness of information across the public sector and aims to enhance accountability. All public authorities are required to adopt a publication scheme in order to take a proactive approach to making information publicly available.

A publication scheme is a document which outlines the classes/type of information that the establishment is making a formal commitment to publish both now and in the future.

The Guildhall School of Music & Drama has based its publication scheme on the ‘model’ scheme for the higher education sector but as the School is owned by the City of London (CoL), which has its own publication scheme, it has adopted a scaled down version specific to its higher education activities. For information about the policies relating to CoL governance matters, HR and occupational health, finance, procurement, estate management, etc please refer to the CoL Publication Scheme and Guidance available at

<https://www.cityoflondon.gov.uk/about-the-city/access-to-information/Pages/freedom-of-information.aspx>

This document lists the classes of information that the School publishes. Document are either available in electronic or paper format and some of which can be accessed straight from the School’s website. Others are available by contacting the School’s FOI contact, the Student Data and Information Manager (see below). Many publications are free, but a charge will be incurred should printed documentation cost £1 or more.

A4 printing charges	A3 printing charges	Postage 2nd class

Non Published Information

Information not made available through the publication scheme can be requested. Requests should be in writing the School and will normally be dealt with within 20 working days. A fee may be charged for these requests and all information subject to an exemption in the Act will not be released. All applications and enquiries should be addressed to:

Copyright

The copyright in the material listing in this publication scheme is owned by the Guildhall School of Music & Drama unless otherwise stated. The supply of documents under Freedom of Information does not give the person or organisation who receives them an automatic right to reuse the documents in a way that would infringe copyright, for example, by making multiple copies, publishing or issuing copies to the public.
